MAISON ONA

“ Don't expect to find a simple digitized score.
At Maison ONA, you can feel the passion for beautiful things.
The digital versions of their quality printed scores are not only elegant but offer a (very) pleasant user experience.”

Conservatoire National Supérieur de Musique et de Danse de Paris (CNSMDP)

MAISON ONA

WHO WE ARE

Maison ONA is an independent publishing house for new music. Established in 2013 and based in Marseille, we support artists reaching original sonic realms.

Active in the intersection between design, publishing and artistic agency, our editorial line is focused on new music.

This identity has evolved the same way sound emerges out of silence, and is represented by three letters, geometric shapes, or waveforms. Pure design, delicate in-studio prints, and digital literacy result in objects with a life of their own.

Our collection reflects the decisions we take at each level. This is expressed in our process and extended conception of uses around scores — but also in the resulting relationship we foster between composers and audiences through listening experiences and the performers themselves.

Pairing modernity with know-how, Maison ONA highlights a fair, sensitive and committed alternative.
